

KEVIN HEUVEL:

Kevin has spent over 11 years in the D&P bat-making workshop. Eight of those years were spent as an apprentice where he began to learn his trade. He started working at D&P cricket immediately after he left school at the age of 18. He represented WP Cricket at junior levels as a top order batsman. Being a specialist batsman, it gives Kevin the ideal reference point as to what our customers are looking for when selecting a cricket bat. He has the ability to easily comprehend what the customers needs are and the skill to convert that idea into the customers dream bat!

Work and formal Qualifications:

- Kevin has been employed at D&P cricket since 1999
- He started doing all the repairs for D&P until 2007
- Promoted to Senior Batmaker at D&P and he is responsible for the smooth & efficient functioning of the D&P cricket workshop.
- Under Kevin's leadership and tutorage, D&P is now uniquely positioned in having a workshop that relies upon team work from a group of experienced cricketers and willow workers.

Kevin's Playing Days:

- Kevin made his debut as a 17 year old Opening Batsman for WPCC in the WP 1A Premier League. He was selected for the WP Academy soon after that. He showed so much potential that he was offered a bursary to play and study at UWC. After giving the studies a go, Kevin decided to rather focus his attention on his work at D&P.
- A classical strokemaker with ability to play all around the wicket, Kevin has been a consistent top order batter for over 10 years of 1st division cricket. He also spend 2 seasons in Ireland where we played as an overseas Pro

Customers that have met Kevin can all testify to this individual's phenomenal amount of energy and passion for what he does. He brings a unique aspect to the company and what he lacks in stature... he more than makes up with heart!
